Repairing ball marks

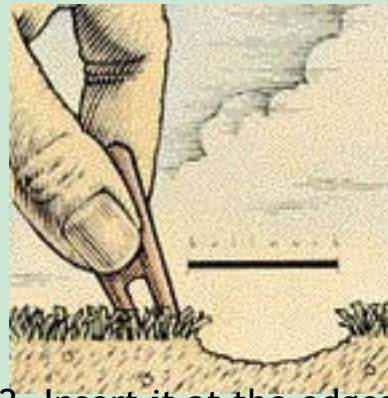

Ball marks, those indentations caused when a ball lands sharply on a soft green, have been ruining good putts since the days of Old Tom Morris. Unrepaired ball marks take two to three weeks to properly heal, leaving behind unsightly, uneven putting surfaces. On the other hand, a repaired ball mark only takes half that time to heal.

Beginner or pro, it is your responsibility as a golfer to fix your own marks. If you're truly a steward of the game, you'll fix any others you see while your partners are putting. There's really not much to it, but there are a few guidelines you should follow when making these repairs.

The right way to fix a ballmark

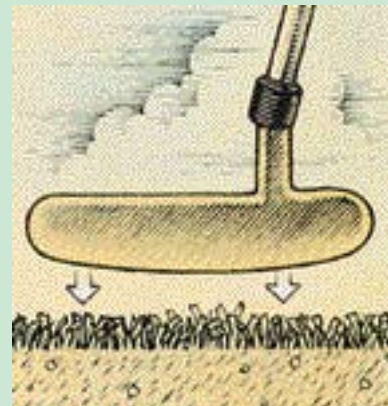

1. Use a pronged ball mark repair tool, knife, key or tee

2. Insert it at the edges of the mark -- not the middle of the depression.

3. Bring the edges together with a gentle twisting motion, but don't lift the center. Try not to tear the grass

4. Smooth the surface with a club or your foot. You're done when it's a surface you would want to putt over

From the Links

Throughout this past year we have implemented several new programs throughout the golf course. Our greens program is proving worthy in that they are in the best of health at this time of year that I have seen. This program will be aided more in the next several weeks through vertical mowing; using an aeration method using 5mm tines continuing our light sand topdressing. The denser establishment has also recognized the progress to the fairway turf. We will again begin slicing these toward the end of the month as we did this past year. This process creates very little disturbance to the surface but aid in letting the oxygen into the soils. The tee areas have enjoyed a more aggressive program in methods of fertilization and cultural practices.

Throughout the season we are always challenged greatly on how to maintain our new bunkers. Our crew has been very instrumental on creating our routine toward grooming them we hope they are what you expected. The dedication from our golf course staff is unbelievable. Please be sure to tell them if you are pleased with their work.

Mother Nature was so kind to use this past month. Typically June brings many thunder and lightning storms and not a whole lot of rain. At this time it looks like we have had more beneficial rain this year than we have had in many past years.

Once again we would like to thank the membership for all your support.

Genuinely,

Dennis Fitzwater - Fitzy
